'Road Hogs' Are Listed by Minister Among New Presbyterian Sinners

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 30.—(P)—"Road hogs" rate as wrong-doers in the up-to-now category of sins which members of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. may hear a lot about henceforth.

Those who worry or are superstitious or who criticize or have an "inferiority complex," also rate as sinners.

They're all in a compilation of more than 80 "sins" prepared by Dr. L. D. Young, pastor of the Abbey Presbyterian church, Dallas, Texas, and presented to members of the general assembly, which adjourned here this week.

Dr. Young and Dr. William F. Klein, of New York, secretary of the church's evangelism division, plan to use the list throughout the denomination as a means of promoting "self-examination."

For handy reference—so none will be overlooked or forgotten—the list is printed on a card termed the "sin chart." Admitted sins can be checked, then, according to the plan, overcome. There are the sins of class distinction, formality, provincialism, disposition, cheating, littleness and sloth.

"Being a lone wolf," according to Dr. Young's chart, also puts a man in the sinner class.

PEACE PREVAILS ON CHINESE FRONT

Peiping-Tientsin Sector Is Quiet as Japanese Halt Advance.

PEIPING, China, May 30.—(UP)—The Japanese, with their armies almost at the gates of Peiping and Tientsin, had ceased their advance today and peace hung in the balance.

Important negotiations were in progress at Tangku, on the coast east of Tientsin, for a truce that would halt the warfare which has resulted in Japanese occupation of a huge slice of north China below the Great Wall. A tour by the United Press correspondent to the battle lines north of Peiping revealed that hostilities were in abeyance for the first time in weeks, and that the hitherto incessant roar of artillery and rattle of machine guns had ceased.

Only in the north, on the southernmost border of Chahar, did the military menace still exist. There Feng Yih-shang, Chinese military genius, had his forces marshaled at Kalgan. It was evident in the region around Peiping that a peace agreement was earnestly sought.

Blonde Waitress, 23, To Wed Banker of 59

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—(UP)—Like a page from a novel comes the announcement from Miss Frances Sewzuck, 23-year-old waitress in a sandwich shop, that she is engaged to marry Robert F. Welsh, 59, Philadelphia sportsman and head of the banking firm of Welsh Brothers.

Miss Sewzuck, a blonde, who lives with her parents over their delicatessen store, said no date has been set for the wedding.

"I met Mr. Welsh in June, two years ago," she said, explaining the meeting occurred at her table in the sandwich shop which is just a few doors from the bankers' office.

At Welsh's home it was said that Miss Sewzuck had been a frequent visitor there and that he had presented her to his parents as his future wife.

World Wheat Parley Opens in London Today

LONDON, May 30.—(UP)—Representatives of the United States, Argentina, Australia and Canada will meet in a west end hotel tomorrow morning to consider raising wheat prices by curtailing production as tremendous stocks would be consumed partly before the world's grain cornucopia again overflows.

Delegates who came here from Geneva, where the conference began, are hopeful some satisfactory plan can be devised, but inasmuch as the harvest in North America is imminent, and sowing has begun in the southern hemisphere, it is improbable any plan could be made effective before 1934.

Any plan agreed upon will be transmitted to the world economic conference with the suggestion it be approved and pledges of co-operation from other nations obtained.

U. S. LEVEE BUILDING TO GIVE 50,000 JOBS

ARKANSAS CITY, Ark., May 30.—(P)—Plans for an immense federal road building program along river levees in Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana have been disclosed here.

J. M. Summerlin, president of the Tensas basin levee district in Louisiana, gave out details of the project, in which he said 50,000 men would be employed, after conferences in Washington. He said the program would get under way about July 1.

Civilian conservation corps workers will be used in the work, Mr. Summerlin said.

MISSISSIPPI ARRESTS CHIEF OF STATE BANKS

JACKSON, Miss., May 30.—(P)—Trial of Superintendent of State Banks James S. Love on an indictment charging "borrowing from a state bank" and "effecting a loan in a state bank" in violation of the statute governing his office was today continued until the November term of Hinds county circuit court.

Superintendent Love waived arraignment on the indictment, entering a plea of not guilty to the two charges.

Indicted late yesterday by the grand jury, Love surrendered to Sheriff Warren Ferguson and made bond of $2,000 which was signed by a number of prominent Jackson businessmen and bankers.

9,531 Gray Vets, 39,622 Widows, Receiving Pensions in 13 States

There were 9,531 Confederate veterans and 39,622 of their widows drawing pensions from 13 states on February 1 of this year, a survey of pension-paying southern states worked out by Edmond R. Wiles, past commander-in-chief of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, shows.

Total financial commitment of the 13 states was $17,482,614.22, of which amount $14,699,297.44 was paid out, he said. His figures were assembled from records of the various state pension commissioners.

The survey shows the following: Arkansas, paid $289,614 last year to 731 veterans at $25 a month each, and 3,184 widows, who drew varying sums.

Alabama, commitment of $1,325,700 for 661 veterans and 3,490 widows.

Mississippi, $223,671.13 paid to 844 veterans and 3,005 widows.

South Carolina, $690,000 paid to 646 veterans and 3,032 widows.

North Carolina, $809,580 to 872 veterans and 3,549 widows.

Georgia, $1,483,920, to 1,034 veterans and 3,088 widows.

Virginia, $1,006,171.45 to 925 veterans and 4,005 widows.

Texas, $3,562,634.32 to 2,064 veterans and 8,212 widows.

Tennessee, $1,242,720 to 580 veterans and 2,070 widows.

Louisiana, $1,280,269.74 to 355 veterans and 1,988 widows.

Florida, $900,014.27 to 294 veterans and 1,687 widows.

Oklahoma, $896,002.50 to 401 veterans and 1,343 widows.

Kentucky, $290,000 to 124 veterans and 670 widows.

The survey also shows 497 veterans and 444 widows living in homes provided by the various states. Missouri and Maryland are shown as maintaining homes but not paying pensions. Total veterans on rolls and in Confederate homes, some of them not drawing pensions, were given as 10,028, while total widows on rolls and in Confederate homes, some not drawing pensions, were given as 49,894.

NORTHWEST FEELS BUSINESS UPTURN

Lumber Industry, Prices and Employment Show Decided Improvement.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 30.—(AP)—A month of rising prices and increased employment has brought new confidence to farmers and businessmen of the Pacific northwest.

Lumbering, key industry of the coast area and perhaps the greatest sufferer during recent years, is showing definite improvement. Three-point-two per cent back hop raising, a once profitable field.

Advances in wheat set flour mills to humming with re-employment of 820 men in Seattle and Tacoma alone. Other farm products picked up. Live stock, dairying, shipping and rail transportation are improving.

The West Coast Lumbermen's Association and the Western Pine Association reported buying reached the highest peak since April, 1931. More than 1,000 men were recalled to work and additional timber cutting camps were started. A number of firms raised wages 10 to 33 1-3 per cent to compensate for previous cuts.

President D. Demarest, of the W. C. L. A., said 600,000 days of work representing at least $1,800,000 in wages was provided American lumbermen in the last 10 months as the result of a duty on foreign soft woods.

Marine agents of Seattle, Tacoma and Portland reported an "unbelievable gain" in shipping. In Seattle alone, within the last two months, more than 14 vessels aggregating 100,000 tons were returned to service.

Hops were whopped up to 75 cents, the highest price in more than 15 years, as breweries rushed to buy.

Freight movement exceeded by 1,501 car loads the forecast made two months ago by the Pacific Northwest advisory board of the American Railway Association. The Great Northern railway reported an increase of 8 per cent in east-bound car loadings for the first week of May, compared with the same period of 1932.

Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific railroad, said this was "a definite sign of business improvement."

Wool maintained its high level and went higher. Beef cattle reached a new high for the year in Portland, Ore., with insufficient stock on hand to meet demands of buyers. Choice young beef brought $8.25. Butter, pork and lard went up, along with wool, condensed milk, fruits and berries.

Construction, hotel business and allied industries were reported picking up.

The Spokane Land bank said there was renewed optimistic interest in farm lands. Tacoma reported prices for Alaskan furs were 10 to 25 per cent higher than a month ago.

They were married about four years ago and have a daughter, Carol Lee Stuart, nearly a year old, who will remain in the custody of her mother.

S. C. Mill Strikers Are at Work Again

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 30.—(AP)—Operations in two South Carolina textile mills where strikes were declared yesterday were back at work tonight, but the Panola Mills at Greenwood joined the list of close-downs because of labor unrest, and two other plants remained idle as workers continued parleys with officials.

Strikers at the Greenwood plant had not announced their grievances tonight, and mill officials could not be reached for a statement. The plant, which employs approximately 300 workers, recently announced a 10 per cent wage increase. The second mill to resume operations was the Ware Shoals Manufacturing Company.

STEGALL KILLED SELF, CORONER'S JURY FINDS

Bad Weather Delays Women's Air Contest

NEW YORK, May 30.—(AP)—With many of the entrants forced down by bad weather en route to the starting point, the second annual Annette Gibson all-women air races were postponed today until next Sunday. Miss Gibson's home is in Athens, Ga.

One of the entrants, Miss Helen Ritchey, of McKeesport, Pa., was unheard from for several hours after she was last seen flying in the fog over the Alleghenies, but she landed safely at Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

The races were to have been held at Floyd Bennett field.

25,000 Disabled Georgia Veterans To Lose U. S. Compensation July 1

Approximately 25,000 of the 50,000 Georgia veterans of the Spanish-American and World Wars now receiving federal compensation will be dropped from the rolls July 1, Captain A. L. Henson, veterans' service officer, said Tuesday.

Captain Henson said the veterans' service office already was assisting thousands of the veterans in proving that the disabilities on which they are drawing pensions are the result of war service.

"A great many veterans have not proven that their disabilities are of service origin because it has heretofore been unnecessary," Captain Henson said. "However, many of the cases can be traced directly to their war service and when this is done they can be placed on pension rolls again."

The service officer said that if veterans first took their cases up with the service officers of their nearest veterans' organization it would be far better and they could get their cases acted upon quicker.

"Because of the thousands of cases going through my office I cannot act on them as fast as I would like to," Captain Henson said. "The various veterans' organizations have volunteered to do the preliminary work and if the veterans work through them they will get quicker results."

Pleas for Aid to Jews in Germany Will Be Made in Synagogues Today

Appeals for destitute Jews in Germany will be made today and Thursday in Atlanta synagogues in connection with the Feast of Shavuoth, which began Tuesday night. The feast is in commemoration of the giving of the Ten Commandments to the Jews at Sinai.

Harold Hirsch, the attorney, will make an appeal at 10:30 o'clock this morning in the temple, at which time confirmation services for 26 children will be held by Rabbi David Marx.

Similar appeals for German Jews will be voiced also by Rabbi Harry Epstein at the Ahavath Achim synagogue, and Rabbi Tobias Geffen, of Shavith Israel. These appeals will be made Thursday at the memorial services.

In a letter to Mr. Hirsch, Rabbi Jonah B. Wise, of New York, chairman of the joint distribution committee, campaign, who has just returned from Germany, says the plight of Jews in Germany as a result of Hitler persecution is indescribable. He is urging continental, British and American Jews to contribute liberally to the relief of their German brethren.

This appeal is being voiced in Atlanta and other American cities. V. H. Krieshaber, vice chairman of the local committee, is receiving contributions at 1116-24 First National Bank building.

Referring to Rabbi Wise's letter, the local rabbis have issued a joint letter of appeal which says in part: "Shavuoth has always been a day of joyous thanksgiving for Jews, in that it commemorates the birth of moral law in the world, and we do not forget that our ancestors were chosen for this mission. On this day we consecrate ourselves to love and uphold the divine law."

"On this day let us solemnly declare that the effort on the part of the anti-semitic leaders in Germany to destroy our people will fail, as these diabolical attempts always have. It is the privilege of us all to assist those who, through no fault of their own, have been visited with this undeserved persecution. Let us, therefore, give, and give liberally for the assistance of our stricken brothers."

Colony Food Supply Is Seized for Debt

LEESVILLE, La., May 30.—(UP)—The food supply of the Liano Co-operative colony of 500 new men, women and children, near Leesville, was seized today on a judgment of $1,650.

General Manager George T. Pickett, of the colony, protested tonight that wholesale starvation faced the whole colony if the local courts upheld the seizure.

The seizure was made today on complaint of a wholesale grocery company, with which the colony had dealt since 1921. All the stock in the colony's general store, 2,500 chickens, 75 hogs, a number of trucks and the Diesel engine, source of the colony's fuel supply, were taken to satisfy the judgment.

Headlines Tell of Accidents; Insure for Your Family Now

Is the ever-mounting wave of traffic accidents a daily menace to you? In addition to the headlines you have noticed during the past few days, take note of these out of The Constitution and other Atlanta newspapers that have been published during the past few weeks:

"Girl Is Killed as Auto Overtakes."

"Six Accident Victims Treated at Grady."

"Savannah Killed as Auto Hits Engine."

"One Dead, One Dying, as Result of Crash."

"Girl, 16, Hit by Auto."

"Auto-Train Collision Fatal to Five."

In what financial condition would you be if your income were abruptly halted by injuries in an accident? What future would your family—those dependent on you—face if you were suddenly killed?

If you stop to think you will agree that insurance is the only solution to the problem. The time to get it is now—not tomorrow—for tomorrow may be too late.

Only a short time ago Miss Geneva Andrews, of Atlanta, was paid $50 by the North American Accident Insurance Company for a fire-week total disability on account of an automobile accident at Whitehall and Alabama streets.

Winifred P. Williams, Cedartown, Ga., was paid $22.88 for a little over two weeks' total disability account of an automobile injury between Cave Springs and Cedartown.

Payments of this kind are coming in to Atlanta Constitution subscribers and members of their families from the North American Accident Insurance Company almost daily. Over $160,000 have been paid to Atlanta Constitution subscribers during the past several years through this insurance service. No paper in the south has rendered such service to its subscribers.

There is only one sensible thing to do: insure yourself and members of your family. Protect your income against abrupt halt and safeguard the future of those you love.

The Constitution offers you the famous travel and pedestrian accident insurance issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company, of Chicago, Ill. This insurance is of

International C. of C. Raps U. S. Gold Action

VIENNA, May 30.—(P)—The seventh congress of the International Chamber of Commerce was convened today by a denunciation of what a delegate called the "immoral" monetary behavior of the United States.

In the finance and industry section, Charles Boissevain, of Holland, won hearty applause of the delegates when he declared that the International Chamber of Commerce should defend not only sound business spirit but should also watch over "real business morality."

He condemned sharply the behavior of those nations which abandon the gold standard "although unquestionably in a position to maintain it."

He condemned also the "repudiation" of the gold clause in contracts by the American congress.

99 Agnes Scott College Seniors Awarded Diplomas at Exercises

Degrees were presented 99 Agnes Scott seniors representing 14 states and foreign countries Tuesday in the 44th annual commencement exercises of the college. Miss Margaret Ridley, of Decatur, was awarded the Hopkins Jewel, given in honor of Miss Nantette Hopkins, an alumnus of the college, to the senior who most nearly meets the ideals of the institution.

Dr. Henry N. Snyder, president of Wolford College, Spartanburg, S. C., delivered the principal address. Officials of the college said that during the last decade there have been 871 graduates with the B. A. degree as compared with only 570 awarded degrees or certificates during the first 33 years of the institution.

Trustees of the college checked the condition of the institution very carefully at commencement and found it gratifying, it was announced. Attendance has been larger than usual for the 15th consecutive year, every penny due the college from fees of students has been collected before the end of the session, and the college has no debts.

Investment Report Good.

College investments have shown gratifying results with less than 1 per cent downward in arrears and less than 5 per cent of the income delayed in payment. During the decade, the endowment has grown from $104,000 to $1,200,000, and the building investment has risen from $45,000 to $822,000. Assets have increased from $822,000 to $2,764,000.

The college has received a $285,000 legatate scholarship of $285,000 awarded to the member of the junior sophomore or freshman class making the best all-round record for the year.

Presented Miss Mary Boggs, of Birmingham, Ala., who was given Miss Polly Gordon, of Chicago, Ill., Miss Mary Sprinkle, of Marion, Va., class of 1930, was given the $50 for the best record in the freshman class, and Miss Ethelyn Johnson, of Atlanta, was given honorable mention.

The piano scholarship was awarded to Miss Lillian Herring, of Greenville, Ga., and the voice scholarship to Miss Marjorie Simmons, of Jacksonville, Fla. The art scholarship was given to Miss Frances Cassel, of Decatur, and the spoken English scholarship to Miss Martha Sken, of Decatur.

Miss Mary D. Clarke, of Atlanta, won the Laura Candler prize in mathematics. Miss Polly Gordon, of Chicago, was awarded the Morley mathematics medal.

The senior class honor list was as follows for the one session of 1933-1934: Maude Armstrong, Hsuehfu, China; Margaret Belote, Atlanta; Mary D. Clarke, Atlanta; Bessie Meade Friend, Petersburg, Va.; Virginia Heard, Decatur; Mary Hudson, Savannah, Ala.; Katherine Woltz, Gastonia, N. C.; Lucile Woodbury, Birmingham, and Eleanor Madge York, Atlanta.

SOLONS DEFY SHOLTZ ON SCHOOL FUND BILL

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 30.—(P)—The senate late today passed 23 to 9 a bill appropriating $7,750,000 annually for Florida's public schools.

Prior to final passage, the senate defeated 20 to 14 an amendment by Senator Hodges to limit the appropriation to $5,500,000, the sum which Governor Sholtz has said is the maximum he will approve.

The senate bill provides that if regular school tax sources do not give $7,500,000, the difference shall be paid from the state's general revenue fund.

GANDHI'S CONDITION REMAINS CRITICAL

POONA, India, May 30.—(P)—The Mahatma Gandhi remained weak and exhausted today from the excitement attending the end of his three-week fast against untouchability.

He was able to assimilate some fruit juice and honey mixed with water, however, and was allowed to eat some grapes, his first solid food in 22 days.

Doctors said the frail little leader was still in a critical condition.

'FOOD DICTATORS' VOTED IN BRITAIN

Permanent Board of Five Will Seek to Control Marketing.

LONDON, May 30.—(UP)—The creation of a permanent authority with almost dictatorial powers to control Great Britain's food supply was assured today when the house of commons passed the third reading of the new agricultural marketing bill. The vote was 271 to 56.

The main purpose of the measure is to put new life into Britain's agricultural industry by regulating imports of foreign foodstuffs.

Since last November, through a series of agreements with leading meat importers, the government has appreciably reduced the huge supplies of beef, mutton, bacon and ham pouring into England. The restriction measures halted the steady decline in meat prices, and encouraged the government to extend the principle to other foods.

The bill provides that when the producers of any commodity such as meat, poultry, dairy products or potatoes have agreed upon a marketing scheme acceptable to parliament, the board of trade is to regulate imports of that commodity in the interest of the producers.

A board of five "food dictators" will be in charge of the new plan. They will control the operation of all marketing plans after the farmers have organized among themselves. They will advise the government when and how to regulate food imports.

All Nation Pays Solemn Tribute To Heroic Dead of Wars of Past

By the Associated Press.

With tributes for their deeds and flowers for their graves America yesterday remembered those who gave their lives in her wars.

Pouring rain deepened the note of mourning in which President Roosevelt attended Memorial Day exercises at Arlington cemetery. 50,000 men paraded in New York and a squadron of navy airplanes dropped flowers on the waves beneath which sleep the victims of the Akron disaster.

Away from the Atlantic seaboard, however, spring sunshine bathed the uniforms and bunting where eulogies were delivered and bugles blew taps—and the baseball teams played double-headers and the two automobile racers died at Indianapolis.

America Will Lower Tariff, Says Bingham

LONDON, May 30.—(UP)—The United States administration is prepared to lower tariff barriers at once as a method of reviving international trade, Ambassador Robert W. Bingham said tonight in his first public appearance since assuming his new post here.

Ambassador Bingham asserted that Americans had learned the fallacy of the belief that "the higher the tariff, the higher wages and the general level of prosperity in the country would be."

He spoke at a dinner given for him by the Pilgrim Society in the Victory hotel.

"They have learned how impossible it is to continue selling," Bingham said, "when they cannot buy, and they at last are prepared, through proper agreement, to lower tariff barriers."

In this country the celebrations took their traditional forms—dratory, martial music, musket volleys and the decoration of graves.

Throughout the vast grounds of the Century of Progress Exposition there band concerts were given and colors were draped, and the crowds centered near the various Lincoln exhibits.

School children, who learn by heart "four score and seven years ago," participated in elaborate exercises at the Gettysburg battlefield, where those famed words were uttered.

The president broke tradition at Arlington when he made no speech in the amphitheater there. Instead Secretary of War Dorn and Secretary of the Navy Swanson rededicated the government to the cause of peace. Secretary Swanson also paid special tribute to the Akron victims.

Labor to Seek Share in 'Recovery' Benefits

WASHINGTON, May 30.—(P)—Leaders of organized labor today were summoned to a special meeting here next Tuesday to face demands that they receive a full share of benefits from the vast public works-industrial control bill.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, in calling the meeting of federation officials, said that "labor is determined that industry, corporations and the owners of industry shall not be the exclusive beneficiaries of organization, price stabilization and the elimination of unfair trade practices, as provided for in the act."

He will recommend, he said, the launching of a campaign to organize workers so that they "may demand that employers negotiate with their chosen representatives in the establishment of decent wages, shorter hours and improved conditions of employment."

WOMEN'S CONTRIBUTION TO THE MOTOR CAR

There is some doubt that people care to hear very much about what goes on under the hoods of their cars.

The driver knows that "driving qualities" are not accidental; they are put there. How the manufacturer creates or evolves those results may not interest him. He judges entirely by the results he gets in driving.

Well, it is not essential to talk "shop"; let us talk Results.

Smoothness. Drive the Ford V-8 and you will find that the engine runs with surpassing smoothness, due to its design and the extra precise methods of its manufacture.

Power. There it is, 75 horsepower (we could say 80) at the drive-shaft for the driver's use. With less weight to pull around, the mettle of this car—its life-like response—is rather remarkable.

Economy. Our V-8 develops more power on a gallon of gasoline than any car we have made. Mileage is partly a matter of individual driving, but under average conditions the Ford V-8 does 17 to 20 miles a gallon. Of course, car economy is not only a matter of fuel. Ford V-8 has that too, but it is also economical in the complete sense—initial cost, operation, maintenance.

Appearance. This is woman's contribution. The motor car must not only be useful, but also good-looking. View the Ford V-8 and you will not need our comment on its fine appearance.

Comfort. This also is woman's concern. In 30 years she changed the motor car from a wagon to a coach. Comfort is a quality made up of numerous ingredients. There is no comfort without a quiet, smooth-running engine. We have all the other ingredients too—color, good taste, quality, ease, safety, roominess and convenience.

Veterans of All Wars Join In Decoration Day Tribute

Blue and Gray Mingle With Khaki; Parade Held Here, Cemetery Rites at Marietta.

The Blue and Gray of '60s mingled with the khaki of 1898 and 1917 Tuesday to pay honor to the defenders of America in a generous outpouring of reverence for the dead of all wars. In Atlanta the observance began with a parade through downtown streets, while in Marietta hundreds gathered to express homage and decorate the graves of national heroes. Moving at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, the parade was made up of many units of the military, civic and patriotic organizations, schoolboys and plain private citizens. Flying flags proclaimed the patriotic zeal of participants while marching feet stepped briskly to martial airs.

After a circuitous route through the city, the procession halted at the Henry Grady monument on Marietta street. At 12:30 from that point a procession moved toward Marietta. Gathered there they assembled in the national cemetery for a program featured by a speech by William G. McRae, commander of Greater Atlanta Post No. 390, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"The patriots who lie buried here," he said, "did not follow a flag with the dollar mark emblem emblazoned upon it and while we were engaged in the recent war to make the world safe for democracy, little did we think that we were merely paving the way for our international bankers to sell us out to Europe."

"Little did we think that the heroes of this war who made the increase in the ranks of multi-millionaires would be labeled as bums and beggars in 1933, or that the heroes of former wars would be called treasury raiders and parasites."

Atlanta did not observe national Memorial Day with the fervor with which she paid tribute to the warriors of 1917 several weeks ago. All government units of city, county and state were open as usual, though most federal offices closed at noon. Stores and banks remained open as usual. The final event scheduled for the day was a mass meeting of war veterans at the Ansley hotel Tuesday night.

TWO ATLANTA YOUTHS TO ENTER ANNAPOLIS

Two Atlanta boys, John Townsend, a graduate of Tech High school, and Robert Fenn, a graduate of Boys' High school, have passed examinations for entrance to the Annapolis Naval Academy, and by order of the secretary of the navy will enter the academy on June 15.

The boys spent nine months at sea and passed examinations for entrance to the Naval Academy Prep school at Hampton Roads. After six months' course there they successfully passed examinations for entrance to the Annapolis academy.

SANDERS IS ELECTED CITY TEACHERS' HEAD

Instructor in Bass Junior High Succeeds Miss Mann as President.

Eugene Sanders, science instructor of the William A. Bass Junior High school, Tuesday was elected president of the Atlanta Public School Teachers' Association to succeed Miss Allie Mann, who did not offer for reelection.

Sanders is a graduate of Emory University, and has been connected with the system for about 10 years.

Miss Mann was paid a tribute, being presented with a $200 purse for her past services and "told to take a trip anywhere you choose."

Other officers elected by the teachers at a meeting held Monday include: Miss Ira Jarrell, senior teacher of the Sylvan Hills school, first vice president.

Frank Phillips, language teacher at Commercial High school, second vice president.

Miss Margie Webster, of Spring Street school, third vice president.

Mrs. R. B. Whitworth, principal of Tenth Street school, secretary.

Miss Mabel Jones, of Lee Street school, financial secretary.

Miss Belle Woodfin, of John B. Gordon school, treasurer.

T. H. DAVIS RESIGNS, A. C. GARDEN NAMED CORDELE SOLICITOR

Governor Talmadge Tuesday received and accepted the resignation of Solicitor-General T. Hoyt Davis, of the Cordele circuit, and appointed Allan

Allen C. Garden.

C. Garden, 39-year-old member of the law firm of Jay & Garden, of Fitzgerald, to complete Mr. Davis' unexpired term.

The new solicitor-general was present when his appointment was made and he was immediately sworn in by the governor.

Mr. Davis has been appointed by President Roosevelt to be United States district attorney for the middle Georgia district. He will take office in a day or two. Mr. Davis is a close friend and fellow townsman of Senator Walter F. George, who lives at Vienna.

The new solicitor-general served almost three years in the army, part of the time as a judge advocate general in France. He is a lieutenant colonel of infantry in the reserve corps. He was graduated from Mercer University in 1915.

The counties in the circuit are Ben Hill, Wilcox, Crisp and Dooly.

WRECK OF FLAMINGO BRINGS $20,000 SUIT

The first damage suit growing out of the recent wreck of the Flamingo, crack L. & N. passenger train, near Cartersville in April, in which five persons lost their lives, was filed in Bartow superior court at Cartersville Tuesday.

Mrs. Louise H. Perry, of 133 North avenue, N. W., is suing for $20,000 for the death of her son, Asaph Hill Perry.

The suit, filed by Sam A. Massell, Atlanta attorney, sets out that Perry, 28, was one of the five persons killed and alleges that the railroad was negligent in that the train was going at the rate of 60 miles an hour around curves, that the company had failed to inspect the tracks, and that old crossties, insufficient to hold the rails together, resulted in the derailment of the train. The accident occurred near Emerson on April 17.

The other persons killed included the engineer, fireman and two alleged hoboes.

SALE OF POPPIES AIDS PARALYZED WAR VET

The "Buddy Poppies" sold on the streets of Atlanta Tuesday made it possible for a totally paralyzed war veteran and his aged mother to return to their home in Loudon, Tenn.

The veteran, Charlie Lee Courtney, was released from the government hospital in Augusta in custody of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Courtney. They had no funds to return home and he and his mother became stranded in Atlanta Tuesday.

Mrs. Courtney appealed to the V. F. W. and through their efforts an ambulance from Harry G. Poole took the paralyzed man and his mother to the Terminal station, where their transportation home was paid for by the veterans' organization.

Cecil V. Whiddon, chairman of the relief committee of the V. F. W., said that his organization always stood ready to assist their buddies. "I would like for the public to know that the money they pay for poppies goes for just such worthy causes as this," he said.

GOVERNMENT OPPOSED TO MILK PRICE PACTS

Commissioner of Agriculture G. C. Adams Tuesday announced that he was in receipt of a telegram from Charles J. Brand, co-administrator of the farm relief act, which said that the agricultural adjustment administration opposed any agreement between milk-producing organizations and distributors of milk and other dairy products.

The commissioner said it had been reported to him that a group of Georgia producers was about to enter into an agreement with a group of distributors to buy their milk and their milk only.

Fred F. Bridges, assistant commissioner, said the state department of agriculture was working on the milk problem with a view of helping all of the milk producers and not any particular group.

Dr. Robert Barrett, Visiting Here, Is Noted Editor and Humanitarian

Atlanta is host this week to one of the south's most distinguished sons, Dr. Robert South Barrett, of Alexandria, Va., who, with Mrs. Barrett, is visiting Mrs. Charles V. Hohenstein, of 335 Sixth street, N. E., Mrs. Barrett's sister. They arrived Sunday and will leave for their home at the end of the week.

Dr. Barrett has been head of the National Florence Crittenton Mission since 1925 and is the son of the late Dr. Robert S. Barrett, who was rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church when it stood at the corner of Pryor and Peachtree streets. His mother, the late Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, was one of the founders of the Crittenton mission.

Dr. Barrett is one of the best informed men in America and is recognized abroad for his clear insight into many phases of life. He has traveled around the world many times and hardly a corner of the globe has not been visited by him. In 1898 he married the former Miss Viola Tupper, of Atlanta, whose father, the late Rev. T. C. Tupper, was rector of St. Philip's cathedral.

Educated at the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn., and at George Washington University, he entered the publication field. He was editor and publisher of the Mexico City Daily Record from 1904 to 1907 and in 1911 became editor and publisher of the Alexandria (Va.) Gazette. In 1916 he left newspaper work to represent the United States department of commerce in South America and served as attache in the Buenos Aires embassy.

In addition to numerous articles and papers which have been published in several countries, Dr. Barrett is the author of three books and a monograph on South American trade. In recent months he has been inactive in letters and business and is taking what he described as "a needed rest."

$100,000 Sought for Sewers From Bond Refunding Saving

Committee Votes Unanimously to Have City Finance Group Set Up Sum; DeKalb Officials Appear.

Atlanta's sewer committee Tuesday afternoon voted unanimously to seek $100,000 of the $588,000 to be saved by the city through refunding of municipal bonds due July 1 for immediate start on a metropolitan sewer development program.

A special committee from the sewer committee will urge the finance committee at a meeting scheduled for 10 o'clock Thursday morning to set up the fund in order that emergency and imperative work can be begun at once.

Action of the sewer committee followed appearance of DeKalb county and Decatur officials who solicited aid of the city in laying a new Duval Hills trunk sewer to relieve over-taxed lines in that area.

Unanimity Shown. Never before has there been such unanimity of purpose in the sewer committee in consideration of the work. Even Councilman H. Parks Rusk, of the thirteenth ward, who has voted consistently against any allocation, urged the committee to join wholeheartedly in the matter and it was on his insistence that the committee voted to establish a subcommittee to appear before the finance committee.

Chief of Construction Clark Donaldson told the committee that "this work is not only imperative but it can be done at this time at a greatly reduced cost because of the fact that all labor costs have been offered generously by Fulton and DeKalb counties."

Surrendered $50,000. "In January we had $50,000 for this work, but because of the financial problems facing the city we were forced to surrender it," Donaldson continued. "I suggest that we ask for $100,000 from the refunding savings. It will take that amount to take advantage of the fine offers made by Fulton and DeKalb officials to furnish us materials."

"This sewer matter is a problem for the entire community. Atlanta cannot afford to fall to take full advantage of the proposals made by officials of the counties in which the problem is so acute. I earnestly urge that we go after a sufficient amount to really relieve intolerable conditions in various sections."

Councilman Homer George, of Decatur, opened the discussion, telling the committee that Decatur has the money in the bank and is ready to start work at once.

"We can begin tomorrow," he said. "Your problem is to get the money. Get it from 32 beer. It would be better to use that money for sewer relief than for other purposes."

Weaver Submits Estimates. W. H. Weaver, Decatur engineer, submitted estimates to show that material costs for the 12,000-foot project would be about $29,400, of which 60 per cent would fall on Atlanta.

"Decatur and DeKalb county should divide the other 40 per cent," he said. "That trunk sewer would relieve much of the pollution of streams, especially Peachtree creek."

Roy Abernathy, Decatur city manager, also urged immediate action, as did C. Howard Candler, Atlanta finance committee member.

"Construction of that trunk would relieve probably the sorest spot around Atlanta and Decatur," Candler said. "It is an ideal place to begin. Take advantage of the offer of other governments and get started on this urgent program of adequate sewer relief."

Asks Subcommittee. "Do not send this request to the finance committee to be lost in a maze of other papers," Rusk urged the committee. "Send a special committee from this body. I have opposed such proposals in the past, but we cannot have progress by continuing opposition to such matters. Let us put the full force of our influence behind this program and see it through."

Alderman Frank H. Reynolds, chairman of the sewer committee, said he would not name the subcommittee, but would leave that to Reynolds.

Reynolds is expected back in the city today.

Bids for the $588,000 refunded bonds will be opened at 10 o'clock Friday morning, and is expected to approve the recommendations at its regular meeting Monday.

A portion of the funds thus saved will be devoted to reinstatement of at least 5 per cent of the pay cuts of municipal employees which now range from 5 per cent to 32 per cent.

EBENEZER T. WILLIAMS, LAWYER, ORATOR, DIES

Ebenezer T. Williams, 60, former solicitor-general of Fulton county, attorney and widely known orator, died Tuesday at his home 904 West End avenue, after a long illness. Mr. Williams retired several years ago from the practice of law.

Mr. Williams spoke in a number of cities in behalf of democratic presidential candidates. His political career started in 1915 when he was appointed warrant clerk by Governor Nat Harris. He was appointed solicitor-general in 1916 to fill the unexpired term of Judge Hugh Dorsey, who had been elected governor.

Mr. Williams was a native of Appling, Ga. He attended Emory College and was graduated in 1880 with high honors, obtaining an A. B. degree. He received his M. A. degree in 1886 from Cumberland University. He was a member of Chi Phi fraternity and the Phi Gamma literary society at Emory, and a member of the First Methodist church.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Williams is survived by a niece, Mrs. Hugh Williams. Funeral arrangements will be announced by Harry G. Poole.

L. W. ROBERT HERE, SEES RELIEF BILL AS AID TO JOBLESS

One of the major factors in restoring economic stability and cutting down unemployment is the immediate distribution of two billion dollars from the federal treasury to the various states, counties and municipalities, according to L. W. Robert Jr., assistant secretary of the treasury, who spent several hours in Atlanta Tuesday. He left in the afternoon for an inspection trip to Chicago and other points.

Mr. Robert, who is in charge of construction of government buildings, said bids will be asked immediately on $50,000,000 worth of projects under the new bill, and that another $50,000,000 worth of approved construction would be put under way before cold weather.

"A part of the huge fund placed into circulation now will go far in cutting down misery and large charity donations by private interests this winter," he said. The assistant secretary was in Atlanta attending to personal affairs which he left several weeks ago to take up his government duties.

NEW CIVIC CLUB NAMED "TENTH ST. PIONEERS"

The new organization launched last week by Tenth street businessmen Tuesday night was officially named the Tenth Street Pioneers at a meeting held at the Majestic restaurant. The name was suggested by Augustus Constantine.

It was announced that Kenyon B. Zahner will serve as chairman of the improvement committee and Homer Sewell will head the program committee while Ira Chance and Ray Durden will head the publicity committee.

COACH LINES ASK DELAY IN REVISION

Georgia Commission Proceeds; Takes Matter Under Advisement.

Bus operators Tuesday asked the Georgia public service commission to delay any intended revision of passenger rates until such a time as the monetary inflation may show what its effect will be, but the commission proceeded with its hearing on the rate schedules and took the entire matter under advisement.

The bus companies had been called upon in a rule nisi of the commission to show cause why their passenger rates should not be revised.

The bus group revealed that a caucus had been held Tuesday morning at which it was decided to ask for a delay in the rate investigation. Mr. Huguleit informed the commission that bus operators would meet in Atlanta on June 15 to try to find some "same way of figuring out coach line fares."

From questions propounded by Chairman James A. Perry and other members of the commission it was indicated that the commission desires to enforce different rates for buses using paved highways than those charged by buses using chiefly unpaved roads.

Mr. Hood told the commission that because of the oncoming inflation the bus operators felt that it would be perilous to them to bring about any changes in the rates now.

"We feel that we should be allowed to continue our present rates until such a time as we see how the inflation will affect us," he said. "It may run up costs of operation to such an extent that a lower rate would force us into bankruptcy."

NOTED RIVER ENGINEER ON VISIT TO SON HERE

Colonel C. W. Sturdivant, civilian engineer on improvement of the Missouri river, Tuesday stopped over in Atlanta to visit his son, Julian Sturdivant, 415 South McDonough, Decatur, on his way to Kansas City from Florida, where he gave expert cost data in the survey of the proposed ship canal from the Atlantic to the Gulf.

The survey is complete and the engineering board at Jacksonville has made a report to the chief of engineers, who in turn will report to the secretary of war, the latter delivering the report to congress, Colonel Sturdivant said.

During the world war, Colonel Sturdivant was commander of the Fifth Corps Engineers. He was on the Colville Mississippi flood control board in 1927.

63 RECEIVE DIPLOMAS AT MERCER UNIVERSITY

Senator Josiah Bailey, of North Carolina, Makes Centennial Address.

MACON, Ga., May 30.—(AP)—Mercer University today brought to a close a four-day celebration of 100 years of service with the presentation of degrees to 63 members of the senior class.

United States Senator Josiah W. Bailey, of North Carolina, made the centennial address in the chapel. Prominent educators listened, along with students, their parents and numerous alumni.

"Tomorrow you may join the army of the unemployed," Senator Bailey told the young graduates. "But civilization cannot tolerate a condition in which men who would work cannot work. I do not think we would get far with a dole, and I do not think we will get far with our public works program."

Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, was to have introduced Senator Bailey, but was unable to leave Washington.

Honorary degrees were awarded to the following as part of today's ceremonies:

Doctorate of laws to William F. Ogburn, of Chicago; Eugene W. Stead, of New York; George M. Sparks, of Atlanta; G. Frank Oliphant, of Macon; and Robert M. Hitch, of Savannah.

Dr. W. G. Lee, Macon banker and member of the Mercer board of trustees, was announced by President Spright Dowell as winner of the Alcegon Sidney Sullivan award for "unselfishness and practical service." The tuition award went to Charles E. Lawrence, member of the graduating class.

Wesley Hawkins, of Macon, received the Delta Sigma Phi first prize scholarship key awarded annually to the commerce department senior who has made the highest four-year average.

Frank Owen Evans, of Milledgeville, won the Harrison prize for the best three-year average in the law school, and also the faculty award for the best average in law since enrollment.

ALLEGED DYNAMITER INDICTED AT SAVANNAH

Man Wound "Found" Bomb Accused of Plot To Destroy Building.

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 30.—(AP)—Indictments have been returned by the Chatham county grand jury, charging T. V. Pruitt with attempting to blow up the city hall with dynamite.

Two counts are contained. One accuses him of possessing explosives for an unlawful purpose and the other charges he tried to destroy a public building.

Pruitt remained in jail pending his trial which officers said probably would be held at the next term of criminal court.

He claimed he found eight sticks of dynamite in the city hall and cut the burning fuse away with his pocket knife just in time to prevent an explosion.

The next day, however, police said their investigation led to the conclusion he placed the bomb and he was arrested.

GEORGIA DE MOLAY CONCLAVE IN ATHENS

ATHENS, Ga., May 30.—(AP)—Athens has been selected as the place of the fourth annual Georgia state De Molay conclave, to be held June 18, 19 and 20, following a meeting here of leaders of the fraternal order. Approximately 400 boys from chapters in 13 cities are expected to attend.

Gilmore Leaves Post As Manager of Grand

Eddie Gilmore, former Atlanta newspaperman who has for the past few months been manager of Loew's Grand theater, has left that position and will resume his former work as a theatrical publicity expert. While his exact position was not announced, he left for Washington, where he served prior to coming to Atlanta, on Monday.

Lionel H. Keene, division manager for Loew's, Inc., said Tuesday that no successor to Mr. Gilmore had yet been named to manage the Grand. Colonel Ed Schiller, executive vice president of the organization, has been an Atlanta visitor over the week-end and left Tuesday to return to his office in New York. He stated that he would announce the new manager for the Grand within the next few days after he had conferred with his conferees in New York.

"Humanity" at Rialto, Soul-Stirring Drama

"Humanity," a soul-stirring drama of two generations, opens a three-day run today at the Rialto theater. With Boots Mallory, Ralph Morgan and Alexander Kirkland heading the cast, the picture is one of the more appealing type. It tells the story of a doctor father and his doctor son. The son, eager for wealth, violates those traditions for the profession his father holds dear and, later, becomes involved in actual breakage of the law.

How the father attempts to sacrifice himself to save his boy and how the girl who has loved him through all his unfaithfulness and willful foolishness, aids him in bringing him back to realization of the worth-while things of life, makes an absorbing and splendidly presented story.

Clever short subjects complete a program that is fully worth of its place on the Rialto's "Spring Festival of Joy."

Health Rules Issued.

With the advent of summer weather in Phoenix, Ariz.—the thermometers hover about 105 degrees during the months of July and August—the state health department has cautioned city and county health authorities stringently to enforce sanitary rules and regulations governing restaurants, hotels, boarding houses, and lunch counters, to assure fresh food and clean dishes and other tableware.

Police Stops Spendthrift.

The first person James Kinney, Ulysses, Neb., met when he arrived in Omaha to paint the town red with $855 he had accumulated, was a detective, who took him to the station and impounded the money. The desk sergeant allowed Kinney $5 per day for red paint work and he thanked the entire department upon leaving several days later with his bankroll intact.

GEORGIA GRADUATION WEEK BEGINS TODAY

Reception To 450 Seniors Marks Opening of Commencement Program.

ATHENS, Ga., May 30.—(AP)—Festivities of commencement week at the University of Georgia will begin tomorrow evening when President and Mrs. S. V. Sanford will honor 450 members of the senior class—the largest graduating class in history—at a reception at their residence.

Final examinations end tomorrow. Seniors of all three schools in Athens will attend the reception for the first time. It marks the actual integration of those units into the University of Georgia.

Dr. M. Ashby Jones, of Atlanta, will preach the baccalaureate sermon Sunday, and President Edward C. Elliott, of Purdue University, will deliver the commencement address Monday morning.

The commencement exercises will mark the last appearances of Dr. Andrew M. Soule as president of the Georgia State College of Agriculture, and of Dr. Jere M. Pound as president of the Georgia State Teachers' Colleges. Presidencies of those schools were abolished by the board of regents. Dr. Soule's term of service ends July 1, and Dr. Pound on July 1 becomes president of the Georgia State Woman's College at Valdosta.

High Produce Prices On Savannah Market

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 30.—(AP)—Savannah farmers are receiving unusually high prices for their early crops at the Savannah Farmers' Wholesale Market.

Butterbeans sold on the local market for $3 per bushel and corn brought 40 cents per dozen ears. O. E. Hughes, market official, said these prices were possible because the products were the first of the season's group and due to the small supply.

Potatoes brought $2.50 a bushel. Irish potatoes 70 cents per bushel; cucumbers $1.25 a bushel, and plums $1 a bushel.

H. H. BROOKS Distributor Explains "Protection" Feature

"All first-line tires carry the usual 'Guarantee' against defective materials or workmanship," stated Mr. H. H. Brooks, official of the Brooks-Shatterly Company, Atlanta tire distributors. "But," he explained, "only Seiberling Tires are factory-protected for from twelve to fifteen months against all road hazards of any name or nature.

"This simply means," continued this tire expert, "that the motorist who buys protected Seiberling Tires is insured against loss should he injure his tires in any way during this period. Even if he ran over a broken bottle or railroad spike, any Seiberling dealer anywhere would repair the damaged tire free of charge or give him full allowance on the purchase of a new tire. The common tire 'guarantee' offers no such insurance. Should a 'guaranteed' tire go bad, the car owner must take it to the dealer from whom he bought it for whatever adjustment the dealer sees fit to make. Any adjustment the dealer makes comes out of his own pocket, because his factory does not reimburse him.

"On the other hand," Mr. Brooks said, "Seiberling Tire Dealers are themselves protected against loss by the Seiberling factory when any accident injures a 'protected' Seiberling. Naturally he will do all he can to satisfy the customer and keep his good will, since it costs him nothing to do so. Seiberlings are so well made that they defy hard wear and rough treatment. But, any tire may be cut or bruised and Seiberling owners are insured against loss from all such accidents, even including damage due to faulty brakes, misalignment of wheels or under-inflation. No other tire carries such broad 'protection.' This guarantee that the owner will receive all the mileage the factory has built into it. It's one reason why more Atlantans buy Seiberlings than any other tire.

The Brooks-Shatterly Company operates three modern tire and battery service stations in Atlanta. The downtown store is located at Spring and Walton streets, the West End store at Whitehall and Gordon streets and the Lakewood store at Lakewood avenue and Jonesboro road.—(adv.)

"One Cook" Prescribed Tired Macon Woman

MACON, Ga., May 30.—(AP)—The weary woman came to Dr. W. A. Williams for an examination. She spoke of long hours of household drudgery and complained of constant fatigue.

The doctor wrote on his prescription pad, folded the leaf and handed it to her.

"Now when you get home, have this prescription filled," he said.

Later, she called a drug store, read the prescription while waiting for the telephone to answer and then hung up the receiver. The prescription read:

"One cook."

CLAIMS IDENTITY ERROR BUT WILL SERVE TERM

GLENNVILLE, Ga., May 30.—(AP) Although contending he is not Joe Smiley, who the state charges fatally stabbed a schoolmate 47 years ago, then fled the country, Holland Chapman today said he would withdraw a demand for a new trial and start serving a one-to-four-year prison term.

Chapman was convicted here recently and a motion for a new trial was scheduled to be heard in Claxton tomorrow. He notified his attorney today he preferred starting the prison term with hopes of serving the minimum, than to fight the case and bear costs of a new trial.

His conviction grew out of statements he is alleged to have made to Millard Reddish, brother of the dead youth.

Chapman maintained he was an orphan reared by a Kentucky family. Affidavits to bear this out were obtained from Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman Maynard in Louisville, Ky. An estranged wife and seven children Chapman claimed to have had in Kentucky could not be located.

Officers declared their investigation developed incidents and remarks by Chapman which indicated he was a resident of Glennville at the time of the killing.

LOWNDES TO ENTER MELON FESTIVAL

MOULTRIE, Ga., May 30.—Lowndes is the second county in the watermelon belt of Georgia to announce its intention of co-operating with the local chamber of commerce in staging the annual Georgia Watermelon festival to be held on June 30.

M. Ashley, secretary of the Valdosta Chamber of Commerce, has announced that Mrs. Margaret M. Brand, home demonstration agent for Lowndes county, will select six young ladies, one of whom will be a candidate for watermelon queen, to represent that county at the festival. Fifty county had already announced that it will co-operate in sending a number of girls to Moultrie on the occasion mentioned. Unsuccessful candidates will be designated as watermelon princesses and the other girls will act as maids of honor, constituting the queen's court.

Secretary Harris, of the local chamber, states that he is expecting several other counties in the watermelon belt to co-operate in this constructive event. He says that the festival has been conceived solely to aid in advertising nationally the good qualities of the Georgia watermelon.

TRUSTEES OF MERCER TO RAISE NEEDED FUND

MACON, Ga., May 30.—(AP)—The trustees of Mercer University will raise the $22,000 needed to run the institution through next year.

After discussing the financial situation for some time the trustees decided to raise the money themselves and portions of the state were assigned to each official.

Four new trustees were nominated. They are William Murphy, Savannah banker, renominated; Milton Heard, of Macon, to succeed H. F. Lawson, of Hawkinsville; W. A. Boodle, Macon attorney, to succeed T. E. Ryals, of Macon; and Eugene McCallister, of Canton, to succeed John B. Gueary, of Montezuma.

FORT BENING TROOPS GET HOLIDAY TUESDAY

FORT BENNING, Ga., May 30.—(AP)—All troops at the garrison here were given holiday today in remembrance of former members of the different organizations who have died in the service.

The program called for lowering of the colors to half-mast from reveille to midday, and a 21-gun salute by battery A of the 83rd field artillery. The 20th infantry band took part in the ceremonies.

EARLY EDISON HOME PURCHASED BY FORD

ST. THOMAS, Ont., May 30.—(AP) The old Edison homestead at Vienna, Ont., where the world famous inventor, Thomas Alva Edison, spent the summers of his early youth, has been bought by Henry Ford, according to information received here.

It is reported the building will be removed from its present site and re-erected in the Ford historical settlement at Dearborn, Mich.

Colored Nurse Saves Baby From Kidnapers

ROME, Ga., May 30.—(AP)—Slamming the door in the face of a man who demanded the child, a negro nurse last night thwarted an apparent effort to kidnap Jane, the 18-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fabry.

The nurse, after closing the door, went to the child's room, took her in her arms, went out through the rear of the house, climbed a wall and went to a neighbor's house. Police were notified and today were working on the case but so far have made no arrests.

Psychiatry's Role in Court Trial Draws Stirring Defense by Leader

BOSTON, May 30.—(AP)—Dr. James V. May, of Boston, president of the American Psychiatric Association, today said "It is the attitude of the law that makes disinterested and impartial study of mental conditions impossible in court cases."

Speaking at a convention of the association at a Boston hotel on the subject, "The Establishment of a Psychiatric Standards by the Association," Dr. May said:

"There would appear to be a well-defined tendency on the part of many to look upon psychiatry as the great popular playground of modern medical science. It seems to have a fatal fascination for the uninitiated, appealing to medical as well as lay amateurs."

"Much has been said about the so-called 'battle of experts' in murder trials as discrediting the standing of psychiatrists. It is the attitude of the law that makes disinterested and impartial study of mental conditions impossible in court cases."

"Psychiatrists have endeavored unsuccessfully for many years to remedy this unfortunate state of affairs. It must be conceded, however, that differences of opinion on the part of the best men in the profession have never been looked upon with suspicion in any other branch of medicine. The decisions rendered by the United States supreme court very often show a marked difference of opinion on the part of those distinguished jurists. Their findings are not always unanimous, and minority reports are frequently submitted.

"In view of this fact, there would appear to be no reason why some honest difference of opinion should not be permitted on the part of psychiatrists. As a matter of fact, the medical experts testifying in murder trials in many instances are not psychiatrists at all, and have had no actual experience whatever in that field."

Business Swings Upward; Callaway Mills Raise Pay

Swinging upward in a brisk general trend, business in the southeast leaped ahead Tuesday under the impetus of increased wages in one of the south's largest cotton manufacturing companies and a strictly encouraging report by the sixth district federal reserve bank in its regular monthly survey.

Passing on "the benefits of the new deal," the Callaway Mills, of LaGrange, announced through its treasurer, Fuller Callaway Jr., that wages and salaries had been increased in 11 units of the mills, affecting approximately 5,000 workers. The increase is effective in July, and when workers receive their next pay envelope they will find concrete evidence of improving conditions.

The Dunson Mills, also of LaGrange, announced a 10 per cent raise affecting 600 workers, effective Monday, May 29. This was announced through W. S. Dunson, president.

Meanwhile, business in many lines accelerated with both wholesale and retail trade showing substantial gains. Many textile mills in other sections of the south were revising upward their pay rolls.

Commenting on the increase in wages in the Callaway mills, the treasurer said "steadily increasing business justifies the value in salaries and wages. We are happy to pass on to workers some of the benefits of the new deal." The pay hike will affect six units in LaGrange, one in Haganville, one in Manchester, one in Roanoke, A. A., one in Millstead and a rug mill also in LaGrange.

This is the second 10 per cent increase for the Callaway workers, the first having been made late in the fall of 1932.

The survey report by the federal reserve bank was the most encouraging in several months, covering financial, agricultural, trade and industrial conditions in six southeastern states.

Both wholesale and retail trade gained during April, the survey showed, with department store trade increased by considerably more than the usual seasonal amount. Total sales by 34 reporting firms gained 21.1 per cent over March, but were less than the same period last year by 12.5 per cent.

An adjusted index showed an improvement of 14.5 per cent for the period, compared with 1.3 per cent for last year.

Wholesale trade showed an in-

Increasing steadily during the last several months, building permits continued to gain with an increase of 17 per cent in the value of buildings for which permits were issued during April.

One of the most encouraging features of the report was in connection with gains in textile business and cotton consumption. On a daily average basis, cotton consumption increased 2.9 per cent over March, and was 28.4 per cent greater than April, 1932. Cotton manufacturing shipments exhibited an increase over March and unfilled orders also were greater. Orders, while smaller than in March, were much in excess of the same period last year.

ROOSEVELT'S POLICIES ARE LAUDED BY BRANCH

Former Atlantan, Now Aid to Farley, Speaks in Florida.

OCALA, Fla., May 30.—(P)—A word of praise for President Roosevelt's efforts to alleviate economic distress and promote world peace was given in an address here tonight by Harlee Branch, former Atlanta newspaperman and now executive assistant to the postmaster general.

Platform pledges on which the president was largely elected already are practically fulfilled, and will be wholly completed by the time congress adjourns in this month, Mr. Branch said, and the outlook for the future is pleasing.

Earlier in the day, in an address before the Florida postal groups in annual convention, Mr. Branch said necessary economies to overcome the deficit of the postoffice department would be put into effect, but that it will not be the policy to cut personnel down to the present reduced level of business through an immediate major operation.

Stating that it was his purpose to narrate in some measure what has been going on in Washington "during this strenuous period since March 4," the unexaggerated activity of the administration in the past few months, Mr. Branch outlined the successive steps taken "to relieve the nation from the most acute phases of the depression."

MAYOR'S BROTHER FREED IN KILLING

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., May 30.—(P)—Acquitted after a circuit court jury had deliberated 53 minutes, George McLaughlin, police clerk and a brother of Mayor Leo P. McLaughlin, was free today of a manslaughter charge growing out of the death of Sidney B. Long, a taxicab driver. McLaughlin claimed self-defense.

EARLY ACTION SEEN ON RITTER INQUIRY

WASHINGTON, May 30.—(P)—Representative Wilcox, democrat, Florida, told newspapermen today that he had been promised hearings before the house judiciary committee "in the next few days" on his resolution for an investigation of the official conduct of Federal Judge Halsted L. Ritter, of the southern Florida district.

13,000,000 bales carryover and reliable information is that the present crop would show an increase in acreage of from 8 to 10 per cent. This is too much carryover and too much prospective crop.

"If we want to put the price up and maintain it, we have to reduce the present crop and let the world know we are not going to have an excessive supply. It will do little good to put the price of cotton up to 10 or 12 cents a pound unless something is done to maintain those prices and it is for this reason that I suggest that an option on every acre be given to the cotton administrator so that later in the season, if necessary, the crop can be further reduced."

"There is no doubt but that the government will go the limit to see that a substantial reduction is made in this present year's cotton acreage by eliminating the possibility of adding to an already burdensome surplus of cotton."

"While Mr. Cobb, the cotton administrator, has only been appointed some 10 days ago he—together with all the agricultural extension workers in the south, are canvassing the entire cotton belt, getting necessary data and making definite plans to abandon a sufficient portion of the acreage. In order to do this the government must have the earnest co-operation of every farmer in the south."

"The department of agriculture has in every state in the south sufficient extension workers, working under the state extension director, to put this whole campaign over in a couple of weeks. In addition to this, there will be hundreds of thousands of southern leaders who will join in the campaign without any cost to the government. After the campaign is put over, there is no reason why—with the wonderful leadership our country has today, why cotton acreage could not be held at a figure where, in future years, cotton will bring a fair price to the cotton farmer."

Mills Have Suffered.

"The cotton mills of the south have suffered with the cotton farmer and the results of our last few years' operations have been almost as tragic. The cotton mills of the south are eager to help the southern farmer to put this campaign over and we have so pledged ourselves to Mr. Cobb and other administration leaders and to our southern congressmen and senators who made this opportunity possible through appropriate legislation. "Never in the history of our country has man seen all the forces so mobilized for recovery and action as we have witnessed in the United States since March 4 under the fearless leadership of our president, Franklin D. Roosevelt. And the south will follow him in his great efforts to make our southern farmers prosperous."

"We cannot do this by giving out newspaper interviews and passing resolutions but by action and in following the leadership of Mr. Cobb."

CRITICALLY ILL WITH ARTHRITIS

Was not able to walk for two years, could not dress, bathe nor herself. Had terrible pain, no appetite, weighed about 60 lbs., says a Pasadena, Calif., woman who now states what unspeakable relief she received since taking Renton's Hydrocin Tablets. "Now I sleep more comfortably and have experienced remarkable freedom from pain and stiffness. I can now walk without crutches." No matter what other treatments you have taken or how badly you have suffered from Arthritis, Neuritis, Lumbago, Gout, Sciatica, and other forms of Rheumatism due to excessive uric acid, you should give Renton's Hydrocin Tablets a trial. Just send name and address to Renton Dept. 13, Pasadena, Calif., or ask Jacobs Pharmacy, Lane Drug Stores or any druggist. Do this today.—(adv.)

FRIENDLY COUNSEL

BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

Dear Miss Chatfield:

We are three devoted friends, each with a different problem. What concerns one of us concerns all of us, so we are writing together. We are young, good-looking and we are not bad, though each of us has a past. Here are our questions:

1. I have made the same mistake that many girls of 13 make. I fell hard for a boy five years older than I, one who knew the world. My father and mother were separated and my mother was very stern with me. The boy asked and I gave. When our affair was at its height I told him about my unhappy home life and kind and good as he was asked me to marry him. I married him not knowing that it was only puppy love for him. Now here is the break: I am in love with my husband's best friend and he with me, though he refuses to tell his husband the real state of affairs. The man has a fine job and if the concern knew of his affair with me he would certainly lose it. My husband loves me and this complicates the situation. What must I do?

WORRIED WIFE.

2. A certain boy and I have been going together for a long time. The neighbors all ask me "Why don't you get married?" I tell them it is because the boy doesn't make enough money but the truth is that he never speaks of marriage though he makes love all the time. I believe he loves me and I have certainly proved my love for him lately and he has been avoiding me and I am frightened by this. Could it be that I have given too much and asked too little in return?

WONDERING.

3. I am one of the unfortunate that seldom has dates, never with the same boy twice I can't seem to put myself over with the boys. Last summer I met a boy who gave me a big rush and I was so anxious to hold him that I gladly complied with every proposal he made. I see now that it was a mistake, for he started to rush another girl and I was left high and dry. Older people tell me to be patient and wait for the right one to come along. Perhaps they are right but now when I am 16 I am fearfully lonely while my friends are having swell time with the boys. What would you suggest that I do to get in the swim?

SIXTEEN.

Answer: Perhaps you are not bad but the two unmarried men think the two of you unmarried girls are bad and the husband of the third is desirous to come into possession of facts that will destroy his confidence in his wife. When the people we love desert us because they lack faith in us, when we are wretched and miserable because of this, and when we have a past that shames us, a past that we must forever be hiding from the knowledge of those we love, we may not be bad at heart but the evidence against us is so strong that the court of conscience, as well as the court of informed public opinion, condemns us.

Such immoralities, or indiscretions, (if you insist) as described in these letters always take their toll on a girl's life. The man, accessory before the fact, seldom marries her. This is the first payment. The second is much like it, for there is always the freezing fear in the girl's mind and heart that the next man, the one who does offer marriage, will come in possession of the incriminating evidence against her. Chagrin, disappointment, fear of being found out, are not these a heavy toll to be taken of any girl? Yet in this sequence immorality exacts these payments.

The only solution of the difficulties for the unmarried girls is a new clean start. The only solution for the married one is a reeducation of her love and loyalty to a man who has come to her rescue when she was in distress and offered her a refuge in his heart and home from unhappy living conditions.

NANCY PAGE

Picnics For Two Are Fun—For Two

BY FLORENCE LA GANKE.

Peter's sister had arrived to spend a week or two at Nancy's. She had shopping that she wanted to do, lectures she hoped to attend and museums and art shops to visit.

There was a young man very much in evidence. Peter and Nancy wondered whether they might not have the pleasure of announcing an engagement soon. But Edith seemed shy and reticent on the subject so they wisely decided to bide their time.

In the meantime, since they liked this young chap, Anthony, they made all sort of plans for the entertainment of the two.

On a bright, sunny morning Nancy suggested that Edith and Anthony might like to run out to the country to see whether Mrs. Gray had decided to sell that patchwork quilt. She had said she might and Nancy craved it.

Nancy and Edith packed a lunch for two. There was the picnic basket already equipped with waxed paper, cellophane, corkcaw, bottle opener, can opener, packets of salt, pepper and sugar, sharp knife, scissors, ball of string and clothes pins. The picnic cloth of plaid gingham was in its case with the fringed cloth napkins and the heavy paper ones. It was a point of honor in the Page family that the last person using the picnic hamper restock it on return before the basket was put away. Then it was ready for any emergency.

Into the basket went devilled eggs, sliced bread and butter, marinated cucumbers and tomato quarters, ripe olives, strawberries (washed, hulled and sweetened) and a thermos of hot coffee.

Sandwiches are in the "Sandwich" leaflet which you may obtain by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Write Nancy Page, care The Atlanta Constitution. (Copyright, 1933, for The Constitution.)

CULBERTSON ON CONTRACT

BY ELY CULBERTSON

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

No matter how sound the advice you may place in a book to guide the bidding of Contract hands, it is possible, as I recently discovered, in the stress of actual play, to forget just exactly what a bid represents when made by your partner as one of the responses to an Opening Forcing bid of two in a suit.

The above-mentioned discovery was made in an important match, my opponents being "oldsmen" Von Zedwitz and Raymond Balle. Fortunately I was permitted to read the Blue Book then and there and determine from its pages what my partner's bid had meant.

"I can see no reason," remarked Mr. Von Zedwitz, "why a man who writes a book should not be permitted to read it, just so he doesn't deny the game too much."

In this view Mr. Balle coincided, and so the Blue Book was sent for and I read there:

The Culbertson Four-Five No-trump Sign Convention also applies to Forcing two-bids, but with the following modifications dictated by the logic of the situation: If the Responding hand holds at least 2-1-2 honor-tricks (not necessarily Aces or a King) he must bid four no-trump at once if holding no Raise or bidable suit, or eventually in any event. The five no-trump is used by the Responding hand only as a response to the Opening bidder's four-no-trump signal, and shows two Aces. Both the four- and five-no-trump bids are Forcing.

The hand in question was the following:

South Dealer. Both sides vulnerable.

Florida House Passes Debt Funding Bill

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 30.—(P)—Inserting an amendment providing for an affirmative referendum, the house late today passed, 83 to 8, the administration-sponsored bill for the state-approved public debt funding bill.

Described by Governor Dave Sholtz as one of the most important measures for the legislature, the measure provides that the fiscal affairs of cities, counties and districts actually in default on bond payments would be supervised by a state board, composed of the governor and four cabinet officers.

Wide powers would be granted the board to negotiate debt settlements between debtor units and bondholders, basing all adjustments on ability of the unit to pay its obligations and at the same time continue to function.

AKRON FLIGHTWEATHER BAD, SAYS ROSENDAHL

WASHINGTON, May 30.—(P)—Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, who first commanded the Akron for the navy, testified in the joint congressional inquiry today that deductions from weather data available April 1 would have led him to avoid the New Jersey coast where the navy's great air cruiser met disaster.

Making his first official appearance in the investigations, Rosendahl said he did not believe Commander McCord was in possession of all the weather information that was available that day.

"There is only one other deduction to which I cannot subscribe—that the commander gave wholesale disregard to the information he had," he said.

SINGTON'S HOMER IS ONLY BLOW CRACKERS GET

Tom Davis in Rare Form as Chicks Win, 4 to 1.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 30.—Tom Davis, young right-hander, came with in one hit of pitching a hitless game against the Crackers today and buried the Chicks back to the head of the Southern league class by defeating the Crackers, 4 to 1, while the Pelicans lost to the Lookouts and vacated the lead. The Crackers went into a tie with Chattanooga for fifth place.

Freddie Sington wedged his bat in between Davis and the door to the pitching "Hall of Fame" when he whaled a home run far and high over the distant back wall in the second inning. The only three other Crackers to get on base reached there on fielding flaws by the infield, which otherwise stood loyally behind the young Tribesman in turning out a masterpiece of pitching.

NO PASSES. Davis, serving his second year as a Tribesman, comes from Bailey, Tenn., almost a suburb of Memphis, and came to the Chicks in the spring of 1932 as a free agent. He once had a brief trial with the Tigers of Detroit. Davis did not give a base.

FROM A SECRET WARTIME FABRIC comes a remarkable new summer suit!

Acting under government orders during the World War, a famous American mill invented a remarkable fabric. Its war-time use necessitated that it be the lightest, strongest fabric of its kind in the world . . . and it was! For the first time, this secret fabric has been made available to the clothing industry—to Hickey-Freeman exclusively! Hickey-Freeman's tailoring craftsmen have endowed it with a superb style. It is called TROPIQUE-LYTE, and is available exclusively at MUSE'S in Atlanta. Coat, vest, trousers.

land a few each round the tenth should find Baer very, very tired and weary of it all.

DEMPSEY ADVISES RUSHING.

Dempsey seems to be coaching Baer in the only style which will really worry the German boy. That is a rushing, tearing sort of fight which will force the ex-champion to back away.

"If you ever go backward against Schmeling he will murder you," Dempsey shouted to his protegee during one of the sparring bouts last week.

Schmeling fights that way. He plods after one, methodically and calculatingly. He follows closely and surely, shooting in those rights, hooking with his left.

I really think Baer has a great chance. The game is comparatively new to him—the big game is. Schmeling has been at the top once. He is embittered a bit by his loss to Sharkey. It is possible that he hasn't the test for the game he once had.

But still, he is German. He will want to make as much as possible while in this country. He is good for another great outdoor show, win or lose. And then, I think, Schmeling will retire. Should he beat Baer and get a return match with Sharkey he should win the championship again. And then one defense and retirement.

The fight looks great. Both men are hitters, each a different type. The Tuesday night's scuffle should be most entertaining—a great show. There is no sport spectacle which approaches a heavyweight fight—be it the Iron Derby, the Kentucky Derby or what have you? And this one should be a sell-out.

Dempsey has been mentioned as a possible successor to Jimmy Johnston, of the Garden. A success in this venture would aid that cause.

ATLANTANS WITH WHITE SOX.

It so happens that two ex-Atlantans, Paul Gregory and Luke Appling, are contributing a great deal to the recrudescence of the White Sox this summer.

Gregory is labeled as "one of the best of the young school of pitchers" while Luke Appling is already considered the best of the young shortstops, considerably better than Jim Ryan, of the Giants, another ex-Atlanta player.

Appling was sold for $20,000 and a player valued at $5,000. No Cracker player has brought more than he. He was the last of the big sales. The majors aren't offering that much in the good year 1933. Gregory went up for a small sum and for a time there was some doubt about his sticking. He was just fair with the Crackers but showed much talent.

BENDING IN AN EAR.

Fifi Dolores Colimore, a beautiful young Greek girl who won an international beauty contest, denies she is the heart of Jim Londos—And Londos, here for a match, again denies he is interested in marriage "as long as he is engaged in wrestling."

Jack Dempsey, keeping up the feud with his old pal Jack Sharkey, says that either Baer or Schmeling can beat him—The effort to boycott the Schmeling-Baer fight because of German trouble faded out—Umpires usually give the Memphis club a break at home because the league president lives there—Most of the managerial "chases" take place in Memphis—Three dogs and one man died from the heat at the Morris and Essex dog show at Camden, N. J., last week—Ball players still protest about heat in the Southern league—When all the heat deaths take place in the east—The S. P. C. A. might do a great deal of good by watching the doping of race horses, a practice which still goes on—Climax Blethen, who was knocked out each time he appeared for the Crackers after the season's first game, has won three straight and Cracker officials are wondering if Blethen didn't like it in Atlanta—The White Sox have had more success against left-handers than any other club—Bob Gilks, who once scouted for the Red Sox, is farming near Brunswick—Wilbert Robinson, who will soon be 70, has more endurance than most of us who are in our thirties—The Old Orioles won't give up.

BEYOND the DOOR by Carol Brown

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

After Manning Colby dines in the basement restaurant of Papa Marat, formerly a roving newspaper correspondent, he arrives up to his fourth floor quarters in the old studio building to complete a panel for inspection at 9 o'clock by the head of the Great Art Company. He is interrupted by Von Voh who has a top floor studio. Von Voh complains of the noisy singing of four college boys who call themselves the Morons, in their studio beneath Manning's. As Von Voh leaves, he repeats his threat to call the police. Manning disregards a knock on his door but soon Virginia, a pretty model with red gold hair, bounces into his studio from the fire escape. She says she had a quarrel with Von Voh while posing for him, goes down to the restaurant to phone, and is too late to catch Brent. As he goes upstairs, he tells old Dan, the janitor, he is going up to Von Voh's. "He's dead," Dan says, and after a pause, "And just the man that did it." Ignoring this, Manning goes to Von Voh's door, where he finds Brent Mathewson, who has the studio across from Manning's, and Sprague, a nephew of Von Voh, who is a second-hand tenant. They tell him they were talking to Von Voh, stopped for three minutes, and found him dead, stabbed to death, when they returned. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

INSTALLMENT III.

"We were in there talking to—to him—to Von Voh—Sprague and this man," he indicated Brent, "and I— we stepped out into the hall and closed the door, and stood there talking, all three of us, for about three minutes. And then we opened the door, and— it had happened."

"But," Manning asked, "wasn't there anyone, wasn't there anyone in there, . . ."

Mathewson shook his head. "Not a soul, not a thing—we went right into the studio—and there he was."

Again Sprague broke in. "Just think, we left him only three minutes—alone only three minutes—with us just outside the door—and we didn't hear—we didn't hear anything! We don't see . . ."

And then Brent, the only businessman in the group, more used than the others to dictating in emergency, attempted to take charge.

"We might as well sit down here," he said, pointing to a garish orange bench and chair at the head of the stairs. "We might as well sit down and wait for the inspector."

And when they had obeyed he began to talk in a curiously, quiet and yet excited voice, like a person who has taken a drug and must talk on and on whether he wills to or not. "I'll try to tell you all I know about it," he said to Manning. "I came up here to keep my appointment with you. I came at 8:30, of course you'd phoned you couldn't be there until 9, but I knocked at your door, and when I found you weren't there . . ."

Manning was about to say, "But I was there," but let the matter slip just then.

"When I found you were out, I came on up to see Von Voh; I had some work I wanted to talk over with him. These two men, Mathewson and the nephew, were there. Von Voh introduced me. They were having an argument. He'd called the police, asked them to do something about those young fellows making the noise downstairs, and they were trying to get him to call the thing off. I saw I couldn't talk business with him then so I said I'd come in later. They both got up, said they had work to do, and we all left together. I'd wanted to meet Mathewson, heard about him, but never met him before, so we stood outside the door talking for a few minutes. This fellow," he nodded contemptuously toward Sprague, "stayed too. We talked for three minutes. I know that because I thought since they were leaving I might as well get back and talk to Von Voh. I was thinking about my appointment with you and looking at my watch. It was 8:30 when we went out in the hall, and just three minutes later that I knocked on his door; he didn't answer, and then the nephew opened the door."

"Yes," Sprague wailed. Manning did wish he'd get back of himself. "Yes, I opened the door, and we found him—oh, why did I leave him in there."

"Did you go in, right in?" Manning whispered.

"Yes," Brent replied. "There wasn't a soul! We looked—well, you know that studio is almost bare—no place for anyone to hide, no other door."

"The fire escape?"

Manning wasn't sure who made the suggestion. It might have been Sprague, it might have been Mathewson, but it was the thought in his own mind, a thought which drove him to the window to look out. He knew what he would see, of course—the fire escape rising down one side of the front of the building past his window on the fourth floor, past the Morons' window on the third floor. The Morons' window! Suddenly, he thought of Virginia—Virginia on the fire escape outside his window—Virginia insisting upon coming in even when he'd insisted that she was busy and wasn't dressed—Virginia saying she'd been posing for Von Voh, and had quarreled with him—Virginia, angry and with tears in her eyes, climbing back on the fire escape from his studio—Virginia!

He peered out of the window and saw the police patrol down in front, and a crowd gathering about the doorway, and some people looking up at him from the fire escape landing on the second floor. He couldn't see who they were. Their faces were white patches, with black holes for mouths. He drew back quickly.

"They've been out there all evening," it was Brent whispering in his ear, whispering out of deference to their nearness to that blue-lighted doorway.

"Who?" he replied, also whispering.

"That family on the second floor, and Stuebens, one of the artists down there, was with them. No one could have come up the fire escape from the street."

Manning was still thinking of Virginia, seeking an escape from the thing that was on his mind, seeking another possibility. "Anyone could come up by the street door and up to the third floor."

Brent shook his head. "Couldn't be done. The police were out there; they were out there when it happened. They had the exits guarded. They'd come in answer to Von Voh's call. One of them was just going to report to Von Voh, but the artist stopped them and tried to call them off. If it hadn't been for that, he'd have been in front of the door, too, when it happened."

Manning remembered seeing Stuebens talking to the policeman in the doorway when he went downstairs, while he'd been talking to old Dan. Then in a flash the thing the old man had said to him came back to him, stood forth with terrifying vividness through the horror, the business, the confusion of things. "You're the man that did it!" Of course, if Virginia, why not he? Why not?

He was aware that Brent was still speaking, not whispering now though, speaking in a louder voice, a hard voice with a curious edge to it. "I say, were you in your studio tonight?"

Then it was that he saw old Dan standing behind Brent, looking at him deliberately, with two maliciously, glittering pin points of light in his pale old eyes.

Manning waited for Dan to speak, but after the first quick glance the old man turned away. But the glance had been definite. He had deliberately caught Manning's eye and registered that he knew he was telling a lie. And old Manning, imagine it, or was there a satisfied droop to his bent shoulders, an assured swinging of his long arms, as though he had accomplished a set task? As he passed by the open door of Von Voh's studio he paused deliberately and stood there beside the policeman, looking in, with an apparent indifference, at the rumpled figure under the blue lantern. Then he went on without a tremor. It was almost as though he had seen the thing before.

Manning followed him to the head of the stairs and watched him slowly and thoughtfully descending. Where was he going now? What was he going to do? Suddenly this queer old gargoyle of a person had assumed a new significance to Manning. Hitherto he had been just a sort of old Dickens character who went with the old building—ornamental in his ugliness. Now there was menace in his queer long under lip just then drawn up in such a determined manner. There was something about the red-rimmed sagging under eyelids, the long flabby nose, which reminded him of a decrepit old bloodhound, which has, after long years of inactivity, caught the scent of blood and is now being about trying to get the scent again. And this old bloodhound, this prowling snuffing old creature, held Manning's future in his busy and wasn't dressed—Virginia saying she'd been posing for Von Voh, and had quarreled with him—Virginia, angry and with tears in her eyes, climbing back on the fire escape from his studio—Virginia!

He peered out of the window and saw the police patrol down in front, and a crowd gathering about the doorway, and some people looking up at him from the fire escape landing on the second floor. He couldn't see who they were. Their faces were white patches, with black holes for mouths. He drew back quickly.

Baron Sardi Punished For Not Ending Theft

ROME, May 30.—(P)—Baron Sardi, organizer of the Italian exposition at the Chicago World's Fair and once one of Mussolini's right-hand men, was indefinitely suspended today from the fascist party.

He was charged with negligence for failure to impede wholesale embezzlement of funds of the Luce Institute, the government agency for controlling the production and distribution of motion pictures in Italy. The embezzlement occurred when he was president of the institute.

He is a former member of the grand council of fascism, former undersecretary of public works and was once delegate to the League of Nations assembly. At present he is a deputy in parliament.

The government charged directors of the Luce Institute with embezzling millions of lire over a period of seven years.

WHITE HOUSE DENIES DEBT CUT CONSIDERED

President's Secretary Says No Intention to Make New Treaty.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—(P)—Strong indication came today from the White House that on the question of war debt payments due the United States little more than two weeks hence President Roosevelt intends to stand pat.

Word has come from reliable sources that Mr. Roosevelt intends to handle the war debts problem himself and that the American delegates sailing tomorrow for the London economic conference will carry with them no instructions for dealing with that troublesome problem.

The chief executive has not deviated from the stand that he expects the debt payments to be made on June 15, when due. Confidence has been expressed in administration circles that at least partial payment will be made when the time comes.

Published reports that a new course would be taken by the president and definite agreements for partial payment made with the debtors, today drew from the White House a strong denial.

Stephen T. Early, a secretary to the president, issued the following statement:

"Press reports stating that the president will use treaty powers to adjust the debts or will permit partial payment on the principal or the amounts in default are pure speculation with doubt as to the word 'treaty'."

"The president at this time has no such intention and probably never will pursue such a course."

Meanwhile, it became known that Mr. Roosevelt does not intend to ask congress to grant him specific power to revise the debts. It is the understanding on Capitol Hill that he will inform congress before adjournment of the discussions he has had on the problem with representatives of debtor nations, but that no request for authority will accompany this message.

Denver Wife, After Rival's Suicide, Defends Spurned Love for Husband

DENVER, May 30.—(P)—Quoting Scripture, Mrs. Ethyl Halsted said today she had "only sympathy" for Mrs. Jane B. Gilfoxy, who last night shot and killed herself because Dr. Fred S. Halsted, Denver surgeon, spurned her plea for divorce.

"Let him without sin cast the first stone," said Mrs. Halsted. "I have known Mrs. Gilfoxy was in love with my husband, but she must not be condemned. Love is a strange and sometimes devastating emotion. I have known it a long time but it has never interfered with our happiness and shall not do so now."

Mrs. Gilfoxy, pretty 34-year-old Los Angeles woman, died in a hospital from a pistol bullet wound after she had fought with Dr. Halsted in her apartment when he refused to marry her. Police said their investigation sustained Dr. Halsted's statements concerning the shooting.

Mrs. Gilfoxy came here last Friday from Los Angeles and quarreled with Dr. Halsted when she visited him at his office.

Last night Dr. Halsted took Mrs. Gilfoxy to a hotel to dinner. He said they went to her apartment after ward for drinks.

His wife described Dr. Halsted today as "broken in spirit and miserable."

"I'm sorry for Mrs. Gilfoxy in death, just as my heart bled for her in life," said Mrs. Halsted.
